MAKING A DIFFERENCE

The Bishop of Oxford invites you to join us on this special day when we will give thanks for all who make a difference in the world. Bishop John will open the event and lead our worship.

Contributors include:

Ben Okafor is a singer songwriter, poet storyteller and actor who empowers people to use their artistic skills to express their views on world issues peacefully yet effectively.

Ann Morisy grew up in Bootle but now lives in South London. Ann is a freelance community theologian and is an internationally acclaimed lecturer and writer. Her presentations are always down to earth but informed by scholarship and honest faith as well as engaging and light-hearted.

The focus of this day will be to explore how changing our world for the better is an essential part of our faith.

We will share experiences, learn from and inspire one another, and celebrate how we all Make a Difference in the World through:

- The little things we do every day in our work and at home
- Local community activities provided and supported by our parishes
- Social activism
- Making a Difference globally

There is so much to share and celebrate!

There will be workshops and displays from the Diocesan Mission in the World team - sharing how people in the diocese are active in so many areas. For example, in our links with World Church, in the connections with local communities, pastoral care, urban and rural issues, working with and supporting vulnerable people, environmentally-friendly solutions to energy supply challenges and our faith in the workplace.

Church gathered - Church scattered
When worship ends - the service begins

COST: £10 per person (includes lunch and refreshments)

This event is a 'thank you' for the difference that you have made in the diocese and in the world, so we have aimed to keep the costs to a minimum.
